RESIDENTIAL DETAIL

A traditional Chinese ink wash painting depicting a serene scene by a river. In the foreground, a fisherman wearing a wide-brimmed hat sits on a large, flat rock, holding a long fishing rod that extends into the water. Beside him are two ceramic pots. A white bird, possibly a crane or heron, stands on the rock. In the background, a large, gnarled tree with thick, vertical roots stands on the bank, its branches reaching over the water. The water is calm, reflecting the scene. The overall style is minimalist and evocative, typical of traditional Chinese landscape art.
