Ottawa
Cananda’s capital city was originally named "Bytown”. The settlement was established as a result of the construction of the Rideau Canal and grew largely due to the lumber industry.

The Rideau Canal

The Lumber Industry
The lumber industry was a main contributor to Ottawa’s early growth and prosperity – making wood a key element of the design.

Existing Site - The City Registry Office
Constructed in 1873 housed many of Bytown’s important documents. It is a small but important civic monument that represents the growth of Ottawa from a small town into a metropolitan city.
